WELCOME TO PRINCE HENRY'S

For over 400 years Prince Henry's Grammar School has served the young people of our local communities and today it continues to be a thriving and successful 11-18 school with over 1400 students, including an increasing number of students from further afield who join our sixth form to access the unique learning opportunities available.

We prepare our Year 12 and Year 13 students for the future by providing high quality teaching and learning alongside activities to develop the creativity, adaptability, confidence and leadership skills needed for success in a rapidly changing world. The range of curriculum pathways and associated enrichment and extra-curricular opportunities we offer is designed to meet the needs and aspirations of all our sixth form students so that they are able to flourish as individuals and achieve their goals.

Prince Henry's has a well-deserved reputation for high standards and excellence. Whilst we recognise that sixth form students need to develop independence and autonomy, we also appreciate the importance of high expectations. Our students agree that the positive staff-student relationships, the Standards for Learning structure, the independent learning expectations and the Sixth Form Dress Code all contribute to a learning environment that is conducive to excellent progress.

This is why a visit to our sixth form reveals exemplary standards of student behaviour, learning and achievement – evident each and every day.

I sincerely hope you will want to experience our vibrant school and sixth form for yourself, and I look forward to your visit to Prince Henry's Grammar School Specialist Language College.

A well-rounded choice of study with a wide variety of courses and an excellent teaching standard. I can't imagine having attended anywhere else. Year 13 student

The teaching my son has received has been exemplary. Staff have nurtured in him a real intellectual interest which will last a lifetime. They have given him much more than top grades – they have given him education for life.

ACHIEVEMENT AND PROGRESSION

Be it ensuring high levels of academic attainment or providing a broad range of experiences, everything we do at Prince Henry's is geared towards giving our sixth form students the qualifications and skills to be successful in an increasingly competitive future. The use of personalised, challenging academic targets encourages students to maximise their attainment, while effective support systems couple with high teaching standards to help all students achieve the best that they can.

The majority of our students progress to Higher Education and benefit from tailored support programmes, including preparation for applications to Oxford and Cambridge as well as Medicine, Dentistry and Veterinary Science. Each year some of our students achieve at the highest level to take up such coveted places. In addition, students of all ability levels go on to study in a wide range of other Higher Education Institutions, with the vast majority of all applicants securing their first choice university place.

We are also very proud of our ability to help our students prepare for the world of work. These employability skills, which our sixth form students learn through the opportunities they enjoy, stand them in great stead when they start work – whether securing an apprenticeship or starting a job straight from school or after university.

Our sixth formers are the oldest students in a forward thinking 11-18 school – this means that they are able to gain valuable additional skills and a real competitive advantage in the adult world.

Virtually all groups of students attain higher standards than similar groups nationally and achieve well. Ofsted

I had 3 sixth form offers until the first day and then came to Prince Henry's and thought - I like it, so why would I leave? Year 12 student

LEADERSHIP, ENRICHMENT AND SPORT

At Prince Henry's, we recognise that young people need to develop their leadership, confidence and adaptability in order to thrive in our rapidly changing society. To this end, we offer our sixth form students an extremely wide range of opportunities to foster these skills. Some students choose to get involved with the Senior Student Leadership Team and Student Council, while others join our Debating Team, Duke of Edinburgh programme or one of the many student-led initiatives such as the Global Justice Group or Peer Mentoring Team.

Our bespoke sixth form Enrichment Curriculum gives students the chance to develop the key skills needed for university and wider life through a varied programme of courses and activities. The most popular single course is the Extended Project Qualification (EPQ) - an AS level equivalent qualification highly valued by the top universities but also very useful for students wanting to follow alternative career routes such as internships and higher level apprenticeships. Another popular option is volunteering within the local community. With one of the widest ranges of enrichment activities available locally, Prince Henry's students can gain an academic edge as well as accessing a fully rounded education.

In addition to the standard enrichment and extra-curricular options, the Excellence in Sport and Education Programme (ESEP) allows talented athletes the flexibility to integrate specialist training in their chosen sport alongside their A-levels, with a mentor and personalised timetable to support their endeavours.

The ESEP programme is great for my son. It lets him develop his rugby skills and professional attitude to sport, while having time to focus on his studies. Fantastic.

Being in sixth form at Prince Henry's is absolutely amazing. As a new student, I must say that everyone here, including teachers and students, is respectful and friendly, therefore the sixth form is a nice place to be and study. One main thing I have noticed is that teachers have very high expectations for their students, which motivates and encourages me to always work hard and do well. As a result of that, I have definitely made the right choice studying here.

I came to Prince Henry's because it was a highly recommended languages college and I can speak 3 languages, with Spanish being my first language. My first impression of this school was very good; the atmosphere was great.
